Interesting and unusual plants are seldom found for sale, and many good cultivars have disappeared completely. The NCCPG was founded to check further losses by identifying plants and habitats at risk and by encouraging propagation and distribution. Over 670 National Plant Collections now exist. Specialist nurseries play a vital role in this task.

If you would like to help or want further information please visit www.nccpg.com

Membership of the NCCPG

Details of other national plant collections in Berks Bucks and Oxon (Allium, Clematis, Linum, and Restrepia,) events in other NCCPG areas, and over 650 national collections throughout the UK and Ireland can be found in the NCCPG National Directory (£5.00 - free to NCCPG members.) In addition members of the NCCPG receive two issues of the National journal 'Plant Heritage' and the National Plant Collections Directory, containing details of the 670 National Collections, and events in other areas. members in the Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Oxfordshire areas are invited to visit interesting gardens, including those of collection holders, and are able to take part in the annual National Plant Exchange.
